col 1 Thayer's Gull - 2 im (first yr) I don't know if the same birds have been hanging out at the river or if there are many different ones but there sure are a good number of imm. Thayer's around this spring. They are quite easily separable from imm. Herring by the small bluish bill and the pale underwings.

col 2 Glaucous Gull - 1 im (3rd year)

col 3 Red-tailed Hawk - on nesting on power pole

col 3 Short-eared Owl - nest with 8 eggs

col 1 American Goldfinch - 1♂ (This is a very early record, the earliest I've ever seen). The bird sat in a tree in our backyard and was singing. It was still present (singing) from our neighbors yard across the lane over 9 hours later!

Col 2 Meadowlark - heard only
C Tree - heard only
Col 3. Cinnamon Teal flying
Long-tailed Jaeger: Came flying towards us down the Highway off across the slough on the right side. The small, slim, graceful grabbed my attention. The long tail was clearly visible & the brown color stood out among the gulls.

Greatest Per Notes - Col.1 2, Col.2 2

* Canada Goose: 1♂ seen dead at edge of slough, 2♂ flew off — pair's killed in Spring?

* Killdeer, Shiloh: Col.1 Magpies harrassing parents constantly — probably got most of clutch.

NOTES SECTION: (attach separate sheet if needed).

W. Bluebird ♀ These birds were carrying food to the nest box
M. Bluebird ♂ and the M removed a fecal sac as we (photos in CFNS collection) watched. When the Tree Swallows settled on the fence near the box the ♂ M. Bluebird flew in chattering at them & moving them back beside their own box. M Bobey confirmed this sighting earlier this week.
Tree Swallows 1 pr using box E of Bluebirds & 1 pr using box across the road & slightly W.

Bird Record Sheet

Please print information legibly.

- GIVE EXACT LOCATION. Fill in a new column for each location visited.
- List the number of each species seen at each location by sex and/or age where they are determinable, otherwise list total number.
- CIRCLE all nesting records and elaborate in "Notes Section" on species marked with an ASTERISK '*' (ie: field marks, habitat, voice, behavior).

NOTES SECTION: (attach separate sheet if needed).

*Cedar Waxwing cont.3 Had hunkered down among branches of trees + shrubs while being severely mobbed (pecked several times or "clawed") by 10 to 15 Magpies. Flew off once but returned in less than 3 minutes to be further mobbed. Made little effort to defend itself. Observed about 4 minutes by which time bird had wedged deeply into shrubbery but Magpies kept up fuss. Unable to ascertain reason for either species' behaviour.

FEMALE GREEN-WINGED TEAL EPISODE

A large German shepherd dog bounded into a pond where there were 5 different species: Coots, mallards, Am. Wigeons, Blue-w. Teals — all with young — and the Green-w. Teal pair — with no young and not residents of this pond. All the other birds, including the male Gr.-w. Teal, flew or swam off in a flurry, but the female Gr.-w. Teal immediately went for the dog. She flopped and squawked within close range for 2 to 3 minutes leading him in a tiring zig-zag chase away from the others. The dog finally gave up and left.

The deliberateness of all these actions seemed almost pre-arranged and poses questions as to: Communication — obviously quite sophisticated — among different species? Why the species with no young at stake? And why the female, who has the greatest responsibility for procreation?

Very large white bird seen from truck. Binoculars showed yellow bill and black legs and feet. Comparison with near at Blue Heron gave size. Bird was standing on wet soil so leg color and foot color was visible.

I went back Aug. 18th to slough. 2 rd allowance N of Airdrie overpass & 1.2 km W of gravel Rd. Dena Farquahrson, ~~Shirley Fraser~~ May Parker & Harry Cornwell were present.

We saw the Egret fly from this slough to a position ¼ mi S. along railway track.

"Farmer" Jim Nevada says "the bird was at the slough in June when he put the cattle into this pasture & he has seen it on & off since.

First heard the loons (common) & then watched pair fishing off shore for about ½ hr. They began to swim away & were calling continually. It was then that we saw the three fledglings join them (they had been near the far shore waiting). The young birds & parents swam inland where we could no longer see them. We believe the young were close to being fully grown as they appeared to be a good size. There seemed to be a lot of white plumage in the young.
